IPO cap. table template: some explanations

The cap table aims at illustrating shareholding of companies at a late stage (mostly an IPO or an IPO filing).

This includes

- founders (f),
- managers,
- board members (D),
- employee shares (common or stock options allocated and reserved),
- investors (preferred shares) and
- IPO shares.

As this data is context-dependent, additional info includes

- The year of foundation and IPO
- The field of activity
- The location of the company
- The price per share and related valuation
- The history of financing rounds (date, amount raised, price per share)
- The pre-IPO financials of the company (revenues and profit/loss)
- The number of employees

A quote

About valuation

“When people come as a team (usually it is three or four people and typically heavyweight on engineering), it is a complex process. But I think all of us have seen it in the earlier days, times when I can remember saying, "Well, look, we'll put up all the money, you put up all the blood, sweat and tears and we'll split the company", this with the founders. Then if we have to hire more people, we'll all come down evenly, it will be kind of a 50/50 arrangement. Well, as this bubble got bigger and bigger, you know, they were coming and saying, "Well, you know, we'll give you, for all the money, 5 percent, 10 percent of the deal." And, you know, that it's a supply and demand thing. It's gone back the other way now. But, in starting with a team, it's a typical thing to say, well, somewhere 40 to 60 percent, to divide it now. If they've got the best thing since sliced bread and you think they have it and they think they have it, you know, then you'll probably lose the deal because one of these guys will grab it.”

Don Valentine, founder of Sequoia Capital

* The difficulty with facebook is that probably they were internal sales of stock in addition to the fact that founders' shares number evolved.

A lot of ESOP might be owned by investors and/or other type of shareholders

 On September 27, 2004, Peter Thiel formally acquired 9% of the new company with a convertible note worth $500,000.

Before the transaction, Facebook ownership was divided between Zuckerberg, with 65%, Saverin, with 30%, and Moskovitz, with 5%.

After the transaction, the new company was divided between Zuckerberg, with 40%, Saverin, with 24%, Moskovitz, with 16%, and Thiel with 9%.

The rest, about 20%, went to an options pool for future employees. From there, a good chunk of equity went to Eduardo's replacement, TheFacebook.com's new COO, Sean Parker.

On October 31, 2004, Eduardo signed a shareholder agreement that allotted him 3 million shares of common stock in the new company.

In the agreement, he handed over all relevant intellectual property and turned over his voting rights to Mark Zuckerberg. Mark became Facebook's sole director.

On January 7, 2005, Mark caused Facebook to issue 9 million shares of common stock in the new company.

He took 3.3. million shares for himself and gave 2 million to Sean Parker and 2 million to Dustin Moskovitz. This share issuance instantly diluted Eduardo's stake in the company from ~24% to below 10%.

The only way to reconcile all numbers is to imagine some stock split around 10 new shares for 1 old which explains the huge new number issuance

 The Nasdaq ADR shares are worthhald of the Indian shares and the price per share was $12 on Nasdaq.

Bill Draper in his autobiography is convinced of the potential of the company (which is not public in India, because not profitable for 3 consecutive years). In 2008, 2009 and 2010, its revenues were $32M, $25M and $18M and still not profitable; uncertain future.

"I DO NOT KNOW the exact details of who got what percentage. But this is my best guess, knowing the people involved.
 The initial employees got somewhere between 0.5% and 1.5%, Jack got something like 5% to 15%, and Biz probably got something similar.
 All of these were FOUNDERS SHARES, common stock, not preferred, but also not options. It might seem small, but it was extremely generous of Ev.
 It was his company and his money. My understanding is that Noah and Ev decided to go their separate ways.
 Noah was paid for being the founder of Odeo, just like the other Odeo investors.
 I don't know if he got Twitter stock or cash. To me it's sad, that Noah and Florian have been written out of the history."

"Silicon Valley's hottest VC firm, Andreessen Horowitz, now owns an $80 million stake in Twitter, Kara Swisher reports.
 What's weird about AH's stake is how it got it: buying shares off employees and early investors through secondary markets."

In April 1999, Wavecom issued FF 30 million (E4.57 million) aggregate principal amount of convertible notes with an interest rate of 10% per annum. The notes were converted into shares at the time of the initial public offering at a conversion price equal to the initial public offering price minus a discount of 20%. In connection with this issuance, Wavecom recognized a beneficial conversion feature of E1,072,000 which was amortized as interest expense over the term of the convertible notes.

On May 29, 2009, the Company issued to existing holders of preferred stock 163,474,270 shares of Series D Preferred Stock at a purchase price of $0.10 in exchange for the payment of cash proceeds of $6,085,000, net of issuance costs of $12,000, and the conversion of $10,251,000 of subordinated, unsecured convertible notes (note 8), including accrued interest. As a result of the issuance of Series D preferred stock, an antidilution adjustment was made with respect to the Series BB and Series CC preferred stock. Since the $0.10 price per share of the Series D preferred stock was lower than the $0.32 price per share of the Series BB and Series CC preferred stock, the conversion price was lowered to $0.27 post Series D financing. In addition, pursuant to the special mandatory conversion section of the Company's Certificate of Incorporation (as amended in May 2009), for those stockholders not participating in the Series D issue, 26,818,031 shares of their Series AA, BB, and CC preferred stock were automatically converted into an equal number of shares of the Company's common stock.

On March 16, 2010, we entered into a note purchase agreement pursuant to which we redeemed from funds affiliated with Pequot Capital Management, Inc., or the Pequot Funds, all of the shares of our Series A Preferred Stock held by them, which represented all of our issued and outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock, in exchange for (i) an aggregate cash payment of $750,000, (ii) 227,759 shares of our common stock and (iii) 2.45% senior unsecured convertible notes in the aggregate principal amount of $1,250,000. Pursuant to the note purchase agreement, the Pequot Funds immediately transferred such shares of common stock and the notes to Neuberger Berman Athyrium LLC, a fund affiliated with Neuberger Berman Group LLC, which presently holds such shares and notes.

Nanosys was founded by Larry Bock, Charles Lieber and Paul Alivisatos. They were subsequently joined by Drs Steve Empedocles and Wally Parce and Mr. Calvin Chow. In a filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission, Nanosys said it will price its 6.25 million IPO shares between $15 and $17 each. At that price range, the offering could raise as much as $106 million and, because Nanosys will have nearly 22 million shares outstanding after the IPO, give the Palo Alto company a total market value as high as $371 million.

Nanosys did not go public in 2004, further raised $41.5M in 2005 and $25M in 2010.

* In 1991, we entered into a license agreement with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, or MIT, which was subsequently amended in 1993, 1994, 1995 and 1997, relating to two patents related to methods and systems for simulating fluid dynamics that had been developed by an MIT scientist, Dr. Kim Molvig. Dr. Molvig is one of our co-founders, but has not been employed by us since 1998. MIT and Dr. Molvig hold, in the aggregate, approximately 1.5% of our common stock. Under the MIT license agreement, as amended, we were required to pay royalties at rates ranging from 1% to 3%, up to a maximum aggregate amount of $2.8 million, on any sales by us of products that incorporated the licensed technology. We paid minimum annual royalties in the amount of $20,000 per year from 1996 to 2007 under this agreement. In 1998, after we developed the extended lattice Boltzmann method that forms the core of our current product offering, we discontinued the use in our products of the technology licensed from MIT. We ceased paying minimum royalties to MIT in 2007.

On 15 February 2017, Cilag entered into an agreement with Actelion (on behalf of Idorsia) to provide Idorsia with the Convertible Loan in the amount of CHF 580 million. Following its incorporation, Idorsia acceded to the Convertible Loan agreement. The Convertible Loan was amended and restated on 25 April 2017 and on 8 June 2017.

The Convertible Loan does not bear interest and is convertible into Idorsia Shares representing a potential total of 32% of the share capital of Idorsia. The first tranche of approximately CHF 135.4 million will automatically convert one trading day following the First Day of Trading into shares representing 9.9% of the share capital of Idorsia.

From Wikipedia (the prospectus does not confirm the information...)

nCino was originally founded as a majority-owned subsidiary of Live Oak Bancshares, a bank holding company.

Cofounders include Chip Mahan, Neil Underwood from Live Oak Bancshares

In 2013, nCino raised $9 million in investment funding from a group of investors that included former Morgan Stanley Chairman and CEO John Mack, Promontory Financial Group CEO Eugene Ludwig, and Live Oak Bank Chairman and CEO Chip Mahan.

In 2014, nCino received its Series A investment, a $10 million round, from Wellington Management Company.

In February 2015, nCino secured an additional $29 million in a Series B Financing, led by Insight Venture Partners.

In 2018, nCino received a $51 million round of venture funding led by Salesforce Ventures, the corporate investment group of Salesforce.

In October 2019, nCino closed its most recent round of funding, a raise of $80 million, led by T. Rowe Price Associates, Inc.

Existing investor, Salesforce Ventures, also participated in the Series D round.

The investment history may be inaccurate as it seems that TPG bought the company in a PE transaction in May 2020.

Silversmith was the 1st investor in series A.

All this may be very approximate.

* UCSF is a licensor of IP to company in exchange for a royalty of 4% on net sales with a minimum of $50k per year, but apparently no equity

 Given the small number of employees it is unlikely that the common shares go to employees but most likledy to investing shareholders...

* Under the terms of the agreement, we paid Lilly an initial upfront fee payment of $5.0 million. In connection with entering into the agreement, we also entered into a common stock issuance agreement with Lilly pursuant to which we issued Lilly 829,995 shares of our common stock and 46,058 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock. As additional consideration for the license, we are required to pay Lilly aggregate development and commercial milestone payments of up to $168.0 million, of which $5.0 million is due prior to NDA. We are also obligated to pay a tiered percentage royalty on annual net sales ranging from a low single-digit up to a maximum of 10% subject to certain specified reductions.

Notes of the examples of academic licenses

- (i) very little info on series A....
- (ii) did not go public, filed only
- (iii) No founder but UCL & a founding VC which puts £6.6M for 6.6M shares
- 0) Stanford is a little surprising with no data on company such as MIPS, Atheros, Rambus, Numerical Technologies.
- 1) Cubist was a 2% equity up to series B.
- 2) MIT only had 100'000 shares for the license, but then invested in preferred shares. There was also a 2% royalty on sales.
- 3) A stock split harshly diluted founders and university.
- 4) This was a 0.25% undilutable stake. The equity numbers at foundation and series A are back-computed.
- 5) No equity, 4% royalty up to $6M and then 1%.
- 6) No equity, 2% royalty on sales.
- 7) No equity, 3% royalty on sales.
- 8) no equity but $2.7M + low %
- 9) 2% royalty on sales
- 10) Founders and University had common and Series A; real 1st round was Series C. There were also 4% royalties on certain sales. Some university shares were canceled (not counted here)
